

ABSTRACT

A decoy and method of moving a decoy, the decoy having a body and a movement system for causing the decoy to move. The movement system comprising guide means connected to the 5 body and drive means for driving the guide means so as to impart movement to the body in at least two directions simultaneously.